Elba Woman Is Victim Of Rape & Robbery

A young Claxton Avenue woman was robbed and raped early Saturday morning in her home after an intruder held her and her husband at gunpoint, tied up the husband with a nightgown of his wife's, and demanded some money they didn't have.

Elba police report the couple returned home around 12:30 a.m. to find the man in their home. He had apparently entered a window on the south side of the house after pushing an outdoor gas cooker against the house to stand on.

The intruder was brandishing a 22 caliber rifle he had found in the house. He had a stocking pulled down over his head, but once during the events of the night, he reportedly pulled it up off his face. The couple reported it was a black man, but police have not released any more information on the rapist.

After demanding money, taking the couple's jewelry, tying up the husband and raping the woman, the intruder reportedly untied the man and had him open the back door so he could leave. This was about 3:30 a.m. and the couple didn't report the incident until after daylight because they had been told by the man he would kill them if they came out of the house. The couple had no telephone.

Elba police found some of the jewelry in the back yard, but blood hounds were unable to track the man away from the house and into the thick woods behind the house.

Stolen from the couple was the rifle, two class rings, three gold neck chains and the couple's wedding rings.

Elba police, Coffee County Sheriff's Department and experts from the state crime lab investigated the incident. No arrest had been made at press time Wednesday.

The Azalea Garden Club of Elba presented a check for $600 to the Elba Public Library Building Fund recently. The money was the proceeds from a "Tasting Tea" held by the club last fall.

donations from individuals and clubs to renovate the recently-purchased medical clinic of Dr. J.M. Kimmey. It is being completely remodeled and the public library will be moved at that time.

Funds for the renovation now total over six thousand dollars and efforts are underway to raise $15,000 to properly remodel and equip the facility. The cost of the building purchase is being shouldered by the city, from tax revenue over a five-year period.

Candidates To Answer Public Questions Saturday In Public Forum

The candidates for office in Elba will meet on the square in downtown Elba this Saturday afternoon at 2:30 for a question-answer session with the Elba Jaycees.

Each candidate will answer three questions from a list of ten that were given to them earlier this week. They will have one minute to answer the question.

The entire event will be broadcast live over WELB. In case of rain, the questioning will be done upstairs in the courtroom of the Coffee County courthouse. The public is invited to attend.

County Commission Hears Report On Taxes

The Coffee County Commission met in regular session on Monday, June 23, at the courthouse in Enterprise, and heard Tax Collector Ronnie Burns make his annual report on the tax records in Coffee County.

The report is made each year prior to making a final settlement with the State Revenue Department, and the records must be approved by the commission. The 1979 records revealed there was $330,657.06 in errors made by the tax assessor, not including the mistake in the rates on car tags. The mistakes were cleared up, but Burns reported that there is still $40,778.22 in unpaid taxes. Notices will be mailed out on June 26, and it will then be a 51-day waiting period before tax sales will begin.

The meeting began at 10:00 a.m., and the first order of business was to open bids on plant mix to be used in resurfacing on County Road 80. Bids were received from Wiregrass Construction-$8,320; S & C Materials-$5,844; and Couch Construction-$5,898. The low bid was accepted.

A letter from the State Highway Director reported the department had recently evaluated each District in an effort to cutback expenses, and that in a local move the Sub-District office would be closed on July 1. All workers will simply transfer to the District office near Enterprise.

Mr. Tom Sizemore headed a large delegation from the Scottsdale Heights subdivision who came to complain about what one woman called a "hog farm." Mr. Sizemore stated the hogs cause an odor problem and cause flies to gather, and told the commission they came to it as "the last resort."

The County Health Department has been aware of the problem for years," said Sizemore. "but they have given us the runaround. The Health Department answers that they'll check on it and let us know, but nothing gets done."

County Attorney Braxton Rowe told the delegation to meet with District Attorney Joel Folmar and tell him the problem, but added, "It is a problem for the Health Department."

County Tax Assessor W. T. "Mack" McKinney met with the commission to discuss a new property tax appraisal program, but noted he did not think the commission was bound to begin the program. McKinney added that he was receiving a good response from the residents in the county in paying an additional amount on car tags. He said all car owners who have not paid the amount still due on car tags will receive due statements on July 1.

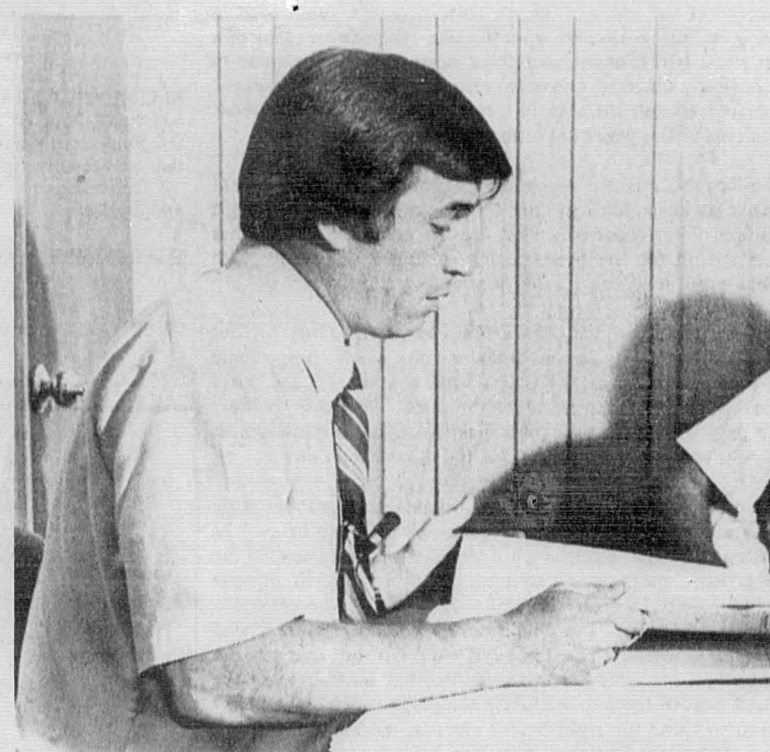

In other action at Monday's meeting, the commission

**approved a request from the National Guard to flame an additional 350-feet of property at the Enterprise armory;

**was told the county had received $6,068.81 in interest distribution from workman's compensation insurance;

**authorized its members to attend a workshop on "Hiring and Firing" in Montgomery on July 29;

**signed an agreement to do additional work on County Road 14 (fertilize 100 feet of shoulders);

***authorized the county engineer to hire four additional people;

***and heard health insurance proposals from three companies.

State Prisoners Escape From County Jail

Two state prisoners reportedly walked away from the Coffee County Jail in Elba about 6:30 p.m. on Wednesday, June 18, when a locking mechanism on the upstairs cell door malfunctioned. One of the prisoners was recaptured within 6 hours, but the other is still at large.

Little Miss Elba Pageant To Be Held Tonight

The Little Miss Elba Contest will be held Thursday night, June 26 (tonight) in the Elba High School auditorium. It is sponsored by the Elba Lions Club. Winner of the event will represent Elba in the National Peanut Festival next fall in Dothan.

Young ladies entered in the event include: Stephanie Adkinson, Markell Adkison, Kristen Bennett, Kasie Daughtry, Amy Michelle Davis, Christina Driggers, Kimberly Hall, Susan Johnson, Dawn Jordan, Stephanie Kidd, Stacey Knight, Chastity Moulton, Selena Musgrove, Kristi Oggs, Ashley Oglesby, Charla Pearce, Victoria Roberts, Shannon Salter, April Thomas, Anita Wallace, and Connie Williams.

County Health Dept. Answers Mayor Folsom

The Elba City Council report last week included statements by Elba

Mayor Robert Folsom critical of the Health Department. Immediately, representatives of the Department in Coffee County contacted this newspaper and asked for permission to state their side of the issue. Below is the statement by Richard T. Brown of the Coffee County Health Department:

Frank Ashe Arson Case Bound Over To Grand Jury

Frank Ashe, owner of Frank Ashe Ford in Elba, was bound over to the Coffee County Grand Jury Friday by District Judge Gary McAulley after two witnesses testified Ashe had conspired to have his automobile business burned. Three others charged in the same arson case waived their right to a preliminary hearing and will go directly to the Grand Jury.

George Cake, one of the group charged in the arson case, testified that Ashe agreed to pay him to burn the business. Cake testified that he and Ashe had planned the fire for some time, but Ashe had wanted him to wait until he completed a loan. He said he was to be paid $10,000, but asked that he get two vehicles instead.

Also testifying was John Hodnet, age 24, from Alex City. He said he had come to Elba with Ashe and had been offered money to help with the fire, but had refused. He said this offer was made several weeks before the fire and that the alleged arson had been discussed between Ashe and Cake in his presence.

Also charged in the arson are Roger Stroud and his wife, Teresa, both of Alex City.

"It is not the policy of this department to become involved in political nor personality conflicts, however when we are accused of being negligent in our job responsibilities on the front page of the Elba Clipper, we must take the same means to answer these accusations. The Coffee County Health Department has not received any complaints from Mayor Folsom. [I've checked our record of complaints, talked with office personnel and each environmentalist]. No one has had any conversation with the Mayor. We did investigate a complaint we received regarding a chicken yard, but no action was necessary so none was taken."

County Races Draw Three

More Hopefuls

Three more candidates have joined the list of candidates for county offices, subject to the September elections. Deadline for qualifying is 5 p.m. Thursday, July 3.

Billy Egerton, Rt. 1, Jack, qualified Monday morning, for the position of county commissioner in District 2. The position is presently held by Jack Hornsby, who has declined to seek re-election. Egerton is the only candidate in that race.

Other qualifiers this week include H.F. Cardwell for Place 2, District 4 (Enterprise). That position is presently held by Bennie Beckham, who is seeking re-election.

Other candidates for commissioner include Gilmer Grant and Leon Smart in District 1; Don Smith and Gene Bradley in Place 1, District 4; Max J. Reeves and Marvin Bowden, Place 3, District 4. Running for Revenue Commissioner is Ronnie Burns. No candidates have qualified for two school board openings nor for constables.

The Coffee County Solid Waste Department will be closed on July 4. The schedule for pickup that week includes picking up on the route for Wednesday and Thursday, on Wednesday, while the Friday pickup will be made on Thursday.

BRAINSTORMS

With Ferrin Cox

It seems that Governor James will call a special session of the Alabama Legislature to deal with some of the things he has wanted but thus far failed to get passed into law. Also, the clamor is on by special interest individuals or groups to get other things added to the official call so they will only need a simple majority to pass, rather than the higher percentage for other business brought into a special session. In spite of all the news a special session will create, and however noble the reason for the call, we have been told by some experts on Alabama politics that it is a waste of time to bring up again some of the things the present legislature has scraped over already. Maybe Fob will learn one day.

Our Senator Miller is one of those howling over the proposal of diverting money from the proposed state park between Elba and Opp. The idea is to use the money to repair storm damage at Mobile and then replace it before the money is needed for the Opp park, but some folks think this would be the end of the money. Ye ole editor doesn't know what is going on, but for sure we want the lake completed, 'cause of a bet some fellow newspaper folks have, and our promise to publish a picture of a certain wife paddling her newspaper husband around the lake in a heavy, waterlogged rowboat. The deal is ten years old (almost) but it still holds true.

The Republicans are demanding equal time with President Carter as he paddles around the world meeting with world leaders. They reportedly want time for something or another to make up for the broadcasting of Carter's meeting with other world leaders... this is pure silly.

The city elections are only a few days away (July 8), but locally there is only limited talk about the whole thing. Some of the candidates are getting a little heated and are upset because as voters haven't done the same. Probably the next few days will be the time folks make mistakes and lose votes, or help voters decide to vote for the other candidate.

The other afternoon about 5 p.m., ye ole editor grabbed a fly rod and headed for one of the local favorite fishing holes. The fishing was slow to slower until after 7 p.m., but then for the next hour, there was one after another until finally the stringer held 16 pretty bluegills weighing a whopping 2 1/4 pounds... total! The whole bunch wouldn't make a good meal for a medium-size family of cats. Not but one person other than my family, saw those fish, but he didn't say too much, 'cause he is a candidate for public office and didn't want to offend me right before election, and actually didn't have that much fishing success himself.

We were asked last week if we checked out the truth of statements made at public meetings. Well, it would be nice if we did, but when we are only quoting the public official, we make no guarantee of the quotes. That seemed to be understood by our caller, even though it didn't remove the fact he felt a quoted statement was untrue. The same could be said for certain type advertisements. We try not to accept untrue advertising but often political ads are full of opinion and it is hard to divide those; therefore, we have been known in the past to accept such ads, even if we feel they are wrong... and alas we will most surely do it again some day.

Last Wednesday night something happened that put our heart into our throat. We were driving into town on the Kinston Highway when we met a car driving south slowly. Just as we met the car we realized a bicycle rider was in the middle of the road, hanging on to the car! We actually got the shakes thinking what could have happened if we had been a little closer to that car, or if something happened and the bike rider fell. We have no idea who they were, but feel sure that at that moment we could have shook both of them until their teeth rattled... at the same time... and regardless of how big and strong they were.

Murray, Weeks Wedding Vows Spoken

Miss Donna Kay Murray and Mr. Timothy Scott Weeks were united in marriage on the evening of June 7, 1980. The double ring ceremony took place in the banquet room of prominent Florida restaurant and was officiated by Mr. Billy W. Lambert.

Miss Murray is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N.C. Barfoot, of Dover, Weeks is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L.G. Weeks of Elba, Alabama.

The banquet room was beautifully decorated with an arch, lavishly trimmed with foliage and rosebuds which formed a lovely background for the wedding party. On each side of the arch stood two tiered candelabras which accented the bride as she walked down the aisle. The bride wore a white gown with a square neckline cut with an empire waistline and a full skirt. She carried a single long stemmed white rose set off by baby's breath and white ribbon.

Given in marriage by her father, Mr. Earl Barfoot, the bride was lovely in her wedding gown of candlelight quina and Venice lace. The princess style dress had a deep scoop neckline with a deep lace ruffle and a pleated

Around The Town

Mrs. Nellie B. Martin

*** count this foursome - Doug and Elaine Martin, and Larry and June Grantham - lucky indeed! Just a few days ago they left Montgomery on a charter flight for Quebec, Canada.

Quebec is the largest province in Canada, and Quebec, the quaint French speaking city, is most historical. It is some 400 miles from the Atlantic Ocean, but is a flourishing and picturesque city on the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Since Quebec is one and a half hours ahead of New York time, the four had to be alert and time watchers. The meetings and schedules kept them on the move.

They were in Quebec to attend the Torch Convention of the Liberty National Insurance. The general atmosphere of the program was centered around the theme of pleasure, fun and relaxation.

There were historical tours of the city, tours of the countryside with verdant green vegetation and spectacular beauty of colorful tulips and wild flowers.

The group was most interested in the car tags with the French words, "Je-Me-Souviens" - "I Remember." Too, the directions on road signs were in French. As they were sightseeing the bus came to the end of the street, the words CUL-DE-SAC were in large print. The bus driver turned around and went back the same way. Doug and Larry were smart and informed June and Elaine that was "Dead End".

The four travelers enjoyed the native folk dancing and lovely native costumes. The music was lively and rhythmic.

Any traveler in this locality looks forward to attending the annual fireworks display. The fireworks are of quality Normande, lobster souffle, and celerie halibut fillet. Too, excellent provincial cuisine is served fresh daily.

These four deserving people had a memorable trip and many broad experiences. They will work on their French. They will be lucky enough next year to get to Newfoundland. There the air is filled with the sound of the water filled with whales. It's exhilarating!

The Elba Recreation Department held its big "Weekend of Sports" last weekend, and it had something for everyone - including a thunderstorm!

The Women's Softball Tournament had a very strong field, with every game being filled with action. All the ladies' teams played well, and the tournament ended only 20 minutes late despite a one-hour rain delay. The Men's Tourney had its strongest field ever, and home runs were flying out all weekend long, much to the delight of the large crowd.

The event ended at 11:00 p.m., only 30 minutes behind schedule, and there was still a big crowd on hand when the final pitch was thrown! The "Classic" tourneys are getting bigger every year, and we're already planning for next year's action.

The Father and Son Fishing Rodeo had to be postponed due to the heavy rain, but the Bass Tourney was held and a good crowd took part. It took the fishermen a little longer than planned to catch their fish, but they finally hooked a couple and the plaques were passed out.

The Go-Kart and Micro Midget races provided plenty of excitement and also drew a big crowd. Ray Kyle did a great deal of work organizing the races and really did a super job! Ray brought in some fast vehicles that provided the crowd with chills and spills, along with some mighty fine racing. Hopefully, these races will become a bi-weekly event and grow as the summer progresses!

A special thanks goes to the merchants who donated the trophies, which were the most beautiful I've ever seen. Donating the trophies were: The Elba Clipper, The Dairy Queen, The Peoples Bank, Elba Exchange Bank, Miracle Fair, Wile's Men's Store, Ye Old Hickory Pit and Haley's Auto Sav. I hope everyone enjoyed the weekend, and I'd like to say, "thanks" to everyone who helped make it a success.

Foxfire Sporting Goods finished third in the Elba Women's Classic, and in doing so, improved the credibility of the Elba Women's League. The Elba league was unsanctioned until last year, and although we had some good teams, they only competed against themselves and never went to big tournaments. Last year the league became sanctioned and the teams went to a few tournaments, and people began to take notice. Well, this year the Elba teams are doing even better; and when Foxfire beat Smith Brothers, one of the top teams in Dothan, and Bama Mills, one of Enterprise's better teams - everybody realized that Elba's Women's League is as good as anybody's!

Watch out folks, the women's league is heading for the top!

In the past few months the sports world has followed the trial of New Mexico basketball coach Norm Ellenberger, accused of changing high school transcripts and paying players to join the New Mexico team. Well, he was found innocent last Friday, but the story made only small print in Saturday's big daily papers. Why? Because the big news was about Evergreen High School's Coach Charles Brannum resigning after the school's principal filed 8 charges against him.

Brannum, who posted a 335-wins-and-80-loss record at Evergreen, stated he would rather quit than fight the charges, which apparently included unauthorized purchases of basketball suits and coach's shoes. Brannum has been at odds with school officials for many years about lack of financial support, and I guess it finally came to a showdown. He is a fine coach, and I wish him luck at his new position.

The Gulf South Conference, which consists of 7 schools, has voted to make some big changes in its football format. The GSC has ruled that, beginning in 1982, all teams must play at least two league opponents twice in one season on a home-and-home basis. At the same time, spring football practice will be outlawed!

The home-and-home schedule could add to excitement and help the schools make more money, but I think spring training is important for colleges. Spring drills give coaches a chance to evaluate all the boys, and not just get the best ready to play. A lot of players, like Elba's Gary Bradshaw, earned scholarship in the spring, and to abolish it will hurt the boys. Oh well, I guess money talks!

Got to go . . . .

Daughtry's Kentucky Fried Chicken Wins 3rd Annual Elba Softball Classic

Daughtry's Kentucky Fried Chicken softball team swept through five games undefeated last week to win the championship of the 3rd Annual Elba Softball Classic.

The Jay Bulls of Jay, FL, placed second, while the Daleville Inn finished third and the Pit-n-Pub of Dothan placed fourth. Kentucky Fried Chicken opened the 16-team tournament with a 14-4 win over J. M. Jackson of Opp and followed with wins over A.F.C. of Andalusia, 20-12, Hickman Movers 18-6, Daleville Inn 18-2, and the Jay Bulls 20-10.

During the 5 game blitz to the championship, K.F.C. scored 90 runs on 101 hits, including 27 home runs and 21 doubles. In the win over A.F.C., the Dothan team slugged 11 home runs!

The Jay Bulls posted 6 wins in the tournament, including 5 straight to reach the finals. The Bulls opened the tournament by defeating Cash Trailers 11-1, but then lost to Pit-n-Pub 9-4 to fall in the loser's bracket. The Bulls came storming back, however, and defeated Cash Trailers 9-8, Enterprise Merchants 9-7, Hickman Movers 16-3, Pit-n-Pub 14-11, and the Daleville Inn 12-0, before losing to Kentucky Fried Chicken. During the tournament, the Bulls scored 90 runs on 101 hits, including 24 home runs.

The Daleville Inn opened the tournament with wins over the Lake City Merchants 13-8, Enterprise Merchants 13-8, and Pit-n-Pub 10-5, but then lost two straight to finish third.

Pit-n-Pub, a Class C team from Greenville, was the surprise of the tourney as they defeated Elba Hospital 13-9, Jay Bulls 9-4, and Ms. Jenes of Andalusia 6-5. Their only losses came to Class A teams.

The Hickman Movers were the top Elba finisher, placing fifth. Hickman defeated 1st National Bank of Brundidge, 6-1, and Ms. Jenes, 11-4, but lost to Kentucky Fried Chicken and the Jay Bulls.

Grimes Oil 10
Victoria 4
Grimes Oil scored 5 runs in the final inning to break open a close game and held on to dump Victoria 10-4.

Jody Stuckey got 3 hits to pace the Grimes Oil, while Junior Moulton and Lamar Moulton both added 2 hits.

Elba Hospital 13
Little Beaver 3
The Hospital jumped out to an early 8-0 lead and rolled to a 13-3 win over the Little Beaver. Jerry Mack got 3 hits to pace the Hospital, while Joe Simmons, Danny Sanders, Robert Donaldson, Donnie Qualls and Hudson all got 2 hits. Wayne Sutley, Nip Ammons and Boggan all got 2 hits for the Beaver.

The Go-Kart Unlimited was a hotly-contested division, with Elba's Gary Brown claiming the checkered flag. Jackie Windham, also of Elba, placed second, followed by Bo Sauls of Elba and Charles Moore of Claychatchee.

The Micro-Midget Limited Division had only two competitors, but they put on quite a race. Donnie Daugherty of Elba finished in first, while Ray Kyle of Elba placed second.

The Micro-Midget Unlimited Division provided the most excitement, and the vehicles reached speeds of 50 mph in the straights, and slid sideways in the turns. David Morrow of Montgomery built a big lead early in the race, but rolled his vehicle over in turn #4 and had to fight up until the end to get the checkered flag. Buddy Copeland, also from Montgomery, finished second, and he was followed in order by John Kennedy of Montgomery, Nelson Reese of Montgomery, Robert Wilks of Goodman, Allen Ruppenthal of Montgomery, and Ricky Barreagary of Montgomery.

The races were held on Elba's 1/8-mile dirt oval, and more are planned!

Plenty Of Chills &amp; Spills At Go-Kart &amp; Micro-Midget Races

The Elba Recreation Department sponsored an afternoon of Go-Kart and Micro-Midget racing last Sunday, and there was plenty of chills and spills that kept the large crowd on its feet!

The day's initial feature race was in the Youth Division - Go-Kart, for children ages 7 and under. Jamie Whitworth sped away to claim first place, while Jack Windham placed second, and Christy Sauls got third. This race provided excitement when the accelerator stuck on the kart driven by Christy Sauls, forcing a group of men to chase down the kart and stop it, coming off of turn #4. The petite young driver was shaken by the incident, but the tears quickly dried up as the activities continued.

The second feature was a 10-lap race for the Youth Division-Go-Kart, for children ages 8-13. Opp's Scott McIntosh led all the way to claim first, followed by Elba's Stevie Sauls and Opp's Ray Hartzog. Other drivers included Chad Wyatt of Opp, Rick Gilder of Andalusia, Kevin Wyatt of Opp, Mark Bess of Opp, and John Bruce of Claychatchee. The crowd got a scare in this race when Rick Gilder bumped wheels with another kart in turn #1, went over the banked curve and became airborne. Gilder, only 9 years old, fell out of the kart when it flipped, and was uninjured. Spectators turned the go-kart over and the young driver continued in the race.

The Adult Division was next, and the Go-Kart Stock Limited took the track. Elba's Mike Sauls did some fancy driving to win the race, followed closely by Opp's Kenneth North. Rounding out the top finishers were Jerome Ludlum of Elba, Stan Bess of Opp, and Ray Eiland of Elba.

Stanley Barnes, Jerry Siler, Ken Yelverton, Andy Hardwick, Ervin Gunnells, Tim Williamson, Danny Folmar, Dwayne Hooks, Ricky Sanders, Larry Mills, Chris Winters and Donnie Byrd. The team will be coached by Charles Boutwell and Dennis Smith.

Metcalfe of Enterprise won 4 straight games last weekend to win 1st place in the 2nd Annual Elba Women's Classic. Smith Brothers of Dothan finished second, followed by Foxfire Sporting Goods of Elba in third place, and Covington Distributors of Andalusia who finished fourth.

Metcalfe opened the tourney with a 17-0 win over The Peoples Bank of New Brockton, then edged Cutrate of

ALL AROUND COFFEE COUNTY County Farm Agent TOM CASADAY

BEAUTIFUL
Larry and Rex Bradshaw have some beautiful corn located about half way between New Brockton and Elba. They have irrigated the corn, and this has been expensive. I have not seen any finer corn anywhere this year.

It has taken a lot of water in the past few weeks to make the corn look good. The fuel cost of irrigating corn has tripled in the past two years. This corn looks good and may make 100 bushels per acre or more. However, they will have a high cost in every bushel they produce.

Congratulations to the Bradshaws on this beautiful corn.

A lot of my peanut-producing friends are disappointed. Some of them have stopped spraying for leafspot disease during the dry weather. This is a mistake. During the dry weather which we are ex-perencing now, I would recommend that you continue on your 14-day schedule of spraying.

We are all hoping for plenty of rain in July. When it does start, you may need to bring your spray interval from 14 days down to 10 days and even 7 days if it is raining every day.

Late leafspot is a relatively new disease which is different from early leafspot. Late leafspot spores will reproduce about 100 times faster than early leafspot. So keeping on a good schedule and using plenty of water, enough pressure and enough nozzles is important.

When you are dealing with a crop which has a gross value of $600-700 an acre, you don't want to take a chance on some production practice over which you have control.

HERD HEALTH
Dr. Tim Miller, veterinarian in charge of the Diagnostic Lab in Elba, and his staff are rendering a valuable service to the breeder, swine, and cattle industries in this whole area. Probably one of the weaknesses especially in our cattle and hog enterprises, is a fairly poor disease control program. I know this is something that Dr. Miller as well as the other veterinarians in the county recognize.

Cattle and hog producers in the midwest do a much better job of protecting their animals from diseases and from internal and external parasites than we do. Most of the cattle and hog producers that I know in this county could greatly improve their health program. One way to do this is to work closely with the veterinarians and with the Diagnostic Lab personnel in Elba.

This lab is a great facility for this entire area, and it is located in this county. I wonder if our farmers are making full use of this facility. It is not only a great facility, but their services are free. You couldn't possibly ask for a better deal.

CROPS SCOUTING
Several Coffee County peanut and soybean producers have hired a crop scout to keep up with the week populations, diseases and insects in crops. Our scouts identify all of these problems and use a special form each week to designate the problems occurring in weed control, diseases and insects. The participating farmers pay for this service. Of course, 95 percent of the soybean and peanut producers in the county scout or check their own fields. In fact, close examination of each field is the only way to determine the conditions of the crops. You can't tell about leafspot disease, lesser cornstalk borer, and all of the kinds of weeds and grasses you have by just simply driving by it.

Speaking of the forms, if you would like to get a copy of the forms we use, get in touch with me. I will be glad to provide you with the peanut or soybean forms if you would like to use them on your own farm.

BAGWORMS
Have you seen any tiny, barrel-shaped cocoons on your evergreens—especially on cedar type trees? If so, your shrubs are infested with bagworms. These spindle-shaped bags are woven by the worms and are made of silk and portions of foliage and twigs.

You can control the bagworms by hand picking the bags from the plants during the winter or before eggs hatch in the spring. You can also spray them in early May or June while the caterpillars are still small. You can use several materials including 57% Malathion at the rate of 2 teaspoons per gallon of water, or you can use Dipel at the rate of 3 tablespoons per gallon of water. Spray the trees thoroughly.

Employees Awarded For Service

Forty-three civilian employees at Fort Rucker were recently recognized for 870 years of combined federal service according to the Rucker Incentive Awards Office.

Awarded pins for 25 years were: Charles W. Sandridge, Aviation Board, New Brockton; Harold E. Fearing, Directorate of Combat Developments (DCD) and Robert L. Ledbetter Department of Flight Training (DOFT), both of Enterprise.

Awarded pins for 20 years were: Wyeth L. Bragg, Directorate of Resource Management (DRM), Elba.

Awarded pins for 15 years were: Cecil Bradshaw, DIO, Louise F. Reynolds, Office of the Chaplain and Anne P. Williams, DRM, Enterprise; Jean E. Mauldin, DIO, Elba; and William H. Mullins, Jr., DIO, Kinston.

Detrect T. Skinner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Skinner, Route 1, Elba, recently was presented the Air Assault Badge upon graduation from the Air Assault School at Fort Campbell, Ky.

Trainees learned to rapidly and safely exit a helicopter from a variety of difficult situations. Whether descending into tree tops or lowering themselves or injured soldiers down sheer drops, the graduates are highly proficient.

Skinner is assigned with the 101st Airborne Division. His wife, Mary, is with him at the fort.

Awarded for ten year pins were: Mary C. Hudson, DRM, Elba; and Hilary D. Pettv, Brantley.

MILITARY NEWS

Spec. 4 Michael A. Garland, son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Garland, Route 2, Elba, recently participated in an Army Training and Evaluation Program at Fort Campbell, Ky.

The program is designed to evaluate individual and unit efficiency under simulated combat conditions. Garland, a supply non-commissioned officer with the 101st Airborne Division, entered in July 1977.

Del Ellis, Mount Pleasant landowner examines stand of grass in grassed waterway.

Junior Ellenburg and landowner Dell Ellis work cooperatively to construct and maintain conservation practices on Dell's farm.

Instances of people's being overcome by fumes from this mixture have been reported. But, their discomfort has been temporary and no case of permanent injury has been known to result from such an exposure. However, many bleach manufacturers do caution against mixing their products with household ammonia.

SUMMER SKIN CARE
Folks are enjoying the summer sun by becoming more involved in outside activities such as gardening, sports and beaches. While you are outside this summer, remember that the sun can damage your skin. Over a period of time, sun can dry the skin, causing wrinkles and lines. Burning should never be mixed with chlorine bleach since unchlorinated, irritating or even dangerous amounts of chlorine gas are released under some conditions.

When cleaning toilet bowls with a toilet bowl cleaner don't be guilty of adding a little bleach to remove stains.

Another common material which should not be mixed with chlorine bleach is household ammonia. The usual result of such a mixture is chloramine fumes. Exposure to the acrid chloramine fumes can be quite unpleasant, causing watering of the eyes, irritation of the nose and throat, and possibly nausea.

Instances of people's being overcome by fumes from this mixture have been reported. But, their discomfort has been temporary and no case of permanent injury has been known to result from such an exposure. MAINTAINING GRASSED WATERWAYS
Dell Ellis recently had constructed two grassed waterways to carry terrace water to a safe outlet. Three years ago Dell had constructed two other waterways on his farm and he was very pleased with them. Dell realizes the key to a good waterway is to get a good stand of grass established. Because water is concentrated in a waterway this is not always easy. The heavy rains we have had this spring have prevented Mr. Ellis from getting an adequate stand of grass so far, but last week he replanted them and since rains are less frequent this time of the year, he will probably be successful.

Grassed waterways do demand special attention the first year, but once a good stand of grass is established maintenance requires very little time. It is important that waterways are constructed properly, to provide safe disposal of rain water. Many times farmers and landowners construct waterways with farm equipment that are too narrow and have very little chance of getting grass established. The ideal waterway should have a flat bottom designed to carry the velocity and volume of water expected during a fairly heavy rain. In most cases this is between 30 to 75 feet wide depending on the number of acres flowing into the waterway. Soil Conservation Technicians will help you design and construct a waterway to fit your condition.

Once the waterway is constructed and a good stand of grass established, you should fertilize it each year about corn planting time. Farmers sometimes think a grassed waterway received enough fertilizer from spill-overs or from runoff from the fields, but this is not enough and is usually spotty. You need uniform fertilization to maintain a strong stand of grass over the entire waterway, because if there is a weak spot in the waterway the concentrated water will gradually deteriorate the grass and form a small wash.

Another big mistake made by farmers in the county is using waterways for roads. If you need to travel over a grassed waterway, then avoid driving in the bottom. The reason for this is that water concentrates in the bottom and if continuous traffic weakens the grass, water will form a wash which gradually enlarges to form gullies. Travel on the side slopes of your waterways or up on the edge of the fields; this will prevent washouts in waterways that are established. If you would like to construct a grassed waterway or have a problem with one, contact your local Soil Conservation Service Office at 894-6332.

SCHOOL'S OUT! These words often bring joy to the hearts of children and terror to their parents. Mothers everywhere fantasize about what the next three months will hold in store for them. Visions of kitchens with peanut butter stains on the counters, carpets with mud-colored footprints, the feeling of never knowing where your child is and what he is up to. These are common worries that most parents face. Fears that you are losing control and influence over your child are also quite normal. This is the first of six articles discussing survival tactics for both parents and children. The goal of this series is to show importance of a smooth running household with clearly defined several children and arrive with your sanity intact. --Tips on how to supervise your children when they are out with their friends; --Suggestions on the use and abuse of automobile privileges for teenagers; --Ways of controlling one's temper when it is 95 degrees, you are exhausted and your children have turned your house into a disaster area.

In the upcoming articles I will discuss some of the concerns most families face, such as: --House rules - How to negotiate them and how to know if they are working; --Motivation - After the first thrill of summer freedom, how to enforce them without nagging; --Television - After the first thrill of summer freedom, how to enforce them without nagging; --Television - After the first thrill of summer freedom, how to enforce them without nagging; --Television - After the first thrill of summer freedom, how to enforce them without nagging;

News From Farmers Home Administration

COMMODITY CREDIT CORPORATION LOWER INTEREST RATES

Interest rates on housing and farm loans made by the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Farmers Home Administration and crop loans made by the Commodity Credit Corporation have been reduced in response to the nation's rural credit needs, Secretary of Agriculture Bob Bergland said today. Changes in rates on CCC loans become effective immediately. Changes in housing loans will be effective at the close of business June 13 and new rates for farm loans will be effective at the close of business June 16.

The interest rate on all 1980 crop commodity loans made by CCC is lowered from 13 to 11 1/2 percent. However, the interest rate on CCC farm storage facility and drying equipment loans will remain at the 13 percent rate.

Interest rates for economic emergency loans to farmers were lowered to 11 percent for real estate and 11.5 percent for production loans. Both had been 14 percent.
